Plenty of Porsche and Ferrari (or other lesser car) parking on both sides of the drive in the grass or on the driveway

How does it work? I mark off a race course on our driveway with cones and blue 3M tape. You take one of our 4wd RC cars and with a helper doing the timing with a stopwatch, see how long it takes to complete two laps. Every time you cross the blue tape you add 10 seconds to your time ☺. Timer keeps track of you going off course, crossing the tape. For those that will be too embarrassed at their terrible RC driving skill (much like their real driving skill) there will be plenty of car talk and great food.
